SUPERINTENDENT'S COMMENTS

WHEN STORMS ARE THREATENING WHAT DO WE DO?

The fall SEVERE WEATHER season is already upon us. When storms are threatening, remember that Mr. Randy Reaves—Safety and Security Director, monitors the weather closely and will notify schools well in advance of any actions or precautions which might need to be taken should severe weather develop.

Also remember that current weather information is available on Calhoun County School System's weather hotline by dialing 256-741-SNOW (9669) and on the Calhoun County School's Severe Weather Notification Facebook page. The information is updated regularly as weather conditions change.

It is important that severe weather drills are conducted so you and your students will be prepared in the event that severe weather threatens.
